Irish Steeplejack Takes Refuge Beyond Reach.

PERCHES THERE 3 WEEKS

Came Down at Last and Slipped Away From Two Watching Sentries.

BELFAST, Aug. 5.-"Jimmy" Gill, Newry man, who stepped into fame by his feats in baffling arrest by the local police, has assumed a new role and appeared in the Palace Theater here as a J. D. COBLENTZ, cor. Fla. ave. and N. Cap. st variety artist."

"Jimmy," who is a steeplejack, was fined at the Newry petty sessions court for being drunk. Failing to pay the fine he took refuge at the top of a chimney 120 feet high, where for three weeks he Came Down for Meals.

Occasionally he descended for his meals, and as the sympathy of the people was with him, he had no difficulty in

Loud cheers greeted Jimmy when he Having sung "Dolly Gray," he gave a brief account of how he dodged the ef-forts of the police to arrest him, and held the Newry chimney against all comers.

He assured the audience that although 'his friends the police' were waiting for him outside, he had no intention of surrendering until Port Arthur would fall. The 'singing steeplejack' is being locked up in the theater by day and night. The management has amply provided for his accommodation.

Fooled Constables.

Seen after the performance, Gill de scribed in an amusing manner how he left the chimney early on Sunday morning, and succeeded in getting clear of two constables who were in the immedlate vicinity.

He made his way to Goragh Wood where he remained in a field all day. In the evening there were two constables at the station. While they proceeded to the front of the train, he got into the compartment next to the guard's van, and thus again successfully hoodwinked
